We process the personal data that you give us on the co-funded .nl marketing application form. We collect and retain your data only so that we can process your application and possibly make related contractual arrangements with you.

What we do with the data that you give us on the co-funded .nl marketing application form (and why) is explained below.

Why

- We collect and retain the name and address of the registrar, the name, e-mail address and job title of the person who signs the form, and (if different) the name and e-mail address of the person who'll be handling contact with us. Where relevant, the name of the reseller is also collected and retained.
- We collect and retain the data listed above only so that we can contact you about your application, prepare a draft contract, and possibly keep in contact with you during the campaign. We won't do anything else with the data. We need to process your personal data in order to fulfil our contract with you. That counts as a legitimate basis for personal data processing under the GDPR.

Retention period

We'll keep your data for the duration of our contract with you. We need to do that in order to fulfil the contract. Once the contract has ended, your data will be deleted automatically. If your co-funded .nl marketing application doesn't lead to us making a contract with you, your data will be deleted as soon as we decide not to go ahead.

For information about your rights and details of other data processing, see our general privacy statement.
